

Moonlight

The Moon is a wonderful thing;
It shines brightest in the Night;
It shines because of the sun;
It's sharing some of its light.

Alas, the moon doesn't stay too long;
The sun's powerful light and the birds' mighty song;
Whispers to the moon it's time for you to go;
And the moon, it agrees and starts strutting along.

But when all is quiet and all is still,
The moon appears over a hill.
And it smiles and it dances.
And it jumps and it prances.
The moon is a wonderful thing!
